On January 15, 2019, respondent filed his *Answer*⁹ interposing the following special and affirmative defenses, to wit: that the petition must be dismissed for failure of petitioner to substantiate its administrative claim for refund; that since respondent rendered a Decision in the administrative level, the Court’s jurisdiction becomes strictly appellate in nature; that since respondent rendered a decision, the jurisdiction of the Court shifts from a trial court to an appellate tribunal; that the Court should confine itself to whether the findings of respondent are consistent with law; that since the instant case is a judicial review, it is trial de novo in the sense that litigants must present anew their evidence in accordance with the Rules of Court; that a Decision has been rendered in this case denying petitioner's administrative claim for refund for failure to substantiate the same, petitioner cannot submit documents it did not submit at the administrative level; that petitioner is not entitled to refund in the amount of P7,874,469.66; and that taxes paid and collected by the Bureau of Internal Revenue (BIR) are presumed to have been made in accordance with law, rules and regulations and the burden to prove otherwise is upon petitioner.

THE ISSUES RAISED BY THE PARTIES

The following issues were stipulated by the parties for the Court's resolution, to wit:

- “1. Whether or not the Petitioner is entitled to an additional refund of its unutilized and/or unused input VAT in the total amount of Seven Million Eight Hundred Seventy Four Thousand and Four Hundred Sixty Nine Pesos and 66/100 (Php7,874,469.66) covering the period of July 01, 2016 to September 30, 2016
2. Whether or not the decision of the Commissioner of Internal Revenue dated November 15, 2018 is correct based on the documents submitted by the petitioner to the respondent”.³⁰

Petitioner's arguments:

Petitioner argues that it is entitled to an additional refund of its unutilized and/or input VAT in the total amount of ₱7,874,469.99.

Respondent's counter-arguments:

Respondent argues that the petition must be dismissed for failure of petitioner to substantiate its administrative claim for refund; and that petitioner is not entitled to refund in the amount of ₱7,874,469.99.

THE COURT'S RULING

The present Petition for Review lacks merit.

Requisites under the law for the refund or issuance of tax credit certificate of input VAT

Pursuant to the provisions of Section 112(A) and (C) of the National Internal Revenue Code (NIRC) of 1997, as amended by Republic Act (RA) No.

²⁹ Resolution dated June 22, 2021, Docket – Vol. 3, p. 1084.

³⁰ Issues, JSFI, Docket – Vol. 1, p. 390.

9337³¹, jurisprudence has laid down certain requisites which must be complied with by the taxpayer-applicant to successfully obtain a credit/refund of input VAT. Said requisites are classified into certain categories, to wit:

As to the timeliness of the filing of the administrative and judicial claims:

1. the claim is filed with the BIR within two years after the close of the taxable quarter when the sales were made;³²
2. that in case of full or partial denial of the refund claim, or the failure on the part of the Commissioner to act on the said claim within a period of 120 days from the date of submission of complete documents in support of the application, the judicial claim must be filed with this Court, within 30 days from receipt of the decision or after the expiration of the said 120-day period;³³

With reference to the taxpayer's registration with the BIR:

3. the taxpayer is a VAT-registered person;³⁴

In relation to the taxpayer's output VAT:

4. the taxpayer is engaged in zero-rated or effectively zero-rated sales;³⁵
5. for zero-rated sales under Sections 106(A)(2)(a)(1), (2) and (b); and 108(B)(1) and (2), the acceptable foreign currency exchange proceeds have been duly accounted for in accordance with BSP rules and regulations;³⁶

As regards the taxpayer's input VAT being refunded:

6. the input taxes are not transitional input taxes;³⁷
7. the input taxes are due or paid;³⁸
8. the input taxes claimed are attributable to zero-rated or effectively zero-rated sales. However, where there are both zero-rated or effectively zero-rated sales and taxable or exempt sales, and the input taxes cannot be directly and entirely attributable to any of these sales, the input taxes shall be proportionately allocated on the basis of sales volume;³⁹ and

9. the input taxes have not been applied against output taxes during and in the succeeding quarters.⁴⁰

In addition, in claims for VAT refund/credit, applicants must satisfy the substantiation and invoicing requirements under the NIRC and other implementing rules and regulations.⁴¹ Thus, petitioner's compliance with all the VAT invoicing requirements is required to be able to file a claim for input taxes attributable to zero-rated sales.⁴² The invoicing and substantiation requirements should be followed because it is the only way to determine the veracity of the taxpayer's claims.⁴³ Moreover, it must be emphasized that compliance with all the VAT invoicing requirements provided by tax laws and regulations is mandatory.⁴⁴

Strict compliance with substantiation and invoicing requirements is necessary considering VAT's nature and VAT system's tax credit method, where tax payments are based on output and input taxes and where the seller's output tax becomes the buyer's input tax that is available as tax credit or refund in the same transaction. It ensures the proper collection of taxes at all stages of distribution, facilitates computation of tax credits, and provides accurate audit trail or evidence for BIR monitoring purposes.⁴⁵

Furthermore, it must be emphasized that in cases filed before this Court, which are litigated de novo, party-litigants must prove every minute aspect of their case.⁴⁶ Thus, it behooves petitioner to show compliance with each of the foregoing requisites. As a corollary, the absence of any of the said requisites is already a valid ground to deny the refund claim. ✓

Petitioner's administrative and judicial claims were timely filed.

To repeat, the first requisite pertains to the filing of a claim for tax refund or tax credit of input VAT before the BIR, within two (2) years from the close of the taxable quarter when the zero-rated or effectively zero-rated sales were made.

The present claim covers the 2nd quarter of fiscal year ending March 31, 2017, i.e., July 1, 2016 to September 30, 2016. Counting two (2) years from the close of the said quarter, petitioner had until September 30, 2018, within which to file its administrative claim for tax credit certificate/refund. Thus, petitioner's administrative claim, together with the supporting documents, filed on September 18, 2018⁴⁷ fell within the 2-year prescriptive period.

The second requisite necessitates that the judicial claim must have been filed within 30 days from receipt of respondent's decision or after the expiration of the 120-day period under Section 112(C) of the NIRC of 1997, as amended. Thus, from the filing of petitioner's administrative claim on September 18, 2018, respondent had 120 days or until January 16, 2019 to act on the said claim.

Respondent, through Assistant Commissioner Erlinda A. Simple, issued VAT Refund Notice dated November 15, 2018⁴⁸ (which was issued within the 120-day period prescribed by law), informing petitioner that its claim was partially approved in the amount of ₱3,386,009.79.

Considering that petitioner received the said notice on December 3, 2018, the filing of the present Petition for Review on December 21, 2018⁴⁹ was timely made within the prescribed 30-day period.

Such being the case, the Court finds that petitioner complied with the above-stated first and second requisites.

Petitioner is a VAT-registered taxpayer.

As for its compliance with the third requisite, petitioner has fulfilled the same by presenting its Certificate of Registration with OCN No. 8RC0000906901E dated March 14, 2017, under TIN 000-269-082-00000.⁵⁰

⁴⁷ Exhibits "P-2" and "P-3", Docket – Vol. 2, pp. 716 to 720.

⁴⁸ Exhibit "P-4", Docket – Vol. 2, pp. 722 to 723.

⁴⁹ Docket – Vol. 1, pp. 10 to 25.

⁵⁰ Exhibit "P-1", Docket – Vol. 2, pp. 713 to 714.

The input VAT being claimed do not appear to be transitional input taxes.

The claimed input taxes do not appear to be transitional input taxes, as understood under Section 111(A) of the NIRC of 1997, as amended, to wit:

“SEC.111. Transitional/Presumptive Input Tax Credits. –

(A) Transitional Input Tax Credits. – A person who becomes liable to value-added tax or any person who elects to be a VAT-registered person shall, subject to the filing of an inventory according to the rules and regulations prescribed by the Secretary of Finance, upon recommendation of the Commissioner, be allowed input tax on his beginning inventory of goods, materials and supplies equivalent to two percent (2%) of the value of such inventory or the actual value-added tax paid on such goods, materials and supplies, whichever is higher, which shall be creditable against the output tax.”

Transitional input tax credit operates to benefit newly VAT-registered persons, whether or not they previously paid taxes in the acquisitions of their beginning inventory of goods, materials and supplies. During the period of transition from non-VAT to VAT status, the transitional input tax credit serves to alleviate the impact of the VAT on the taxpayer.⁵¹ Since there is no showing that the claimed input taxes are transitional input taxes, petitioner has complied with the sixth requisite for the grant of an input VAT refund.

Petitioner failed to prove compliance with the fourth, fifth, seventh and eighth requisites for the grant of an input VAT refund claim.

Petitioner failed to prove that it has complied with the invoicing requirements under the NIRC of 1997 and other appropriate regulations.

To reiterate, cases filed in this Court are litigated de novo. Thus, petitioner should prove every minute aspect of its case by presenting, formally offering and submitting to this Court all evidence required for the successful prosecution of its administrative party-litigants must prove every minute aspect of their case.⁵²

⁵¹ Fort Bonifacio Development Corporation vs. Commissioner of Internal Revenue, G.R. Nos. 158885 and 170680, April 2, 2008.

⁵² Refer to Commissioner of Internal Revenue vs. Philippine National Bank, supra.

The term “de novo” means anew, afresh, or a second time;⁵³ or re-started from the beginning, or begun all over again.⁵⁴ A trial de novo means a new trial in the same manner, with the same effect, and upon the same issues as the case was tried in the lower court, in accordance with the rules of practice in the appellate court.⁵⁵

Notably, petitioner did not treat the proceedings before this Court as one de novo, since petitioner did not present, formally offer, and submit evidence to establish the fourth, fifth, seventh, and eighth requisites to successfully obtain a credit/refund of input VAT.

Petitioner further failed to establish that the input VAT claim of ₱7,874,469.66 is unapplied against any output tax during and in the succeeding quarters.

The ninth requisite under Section 112(A) of the NIRC of 1997, as amended, that the input taxes have not been applied against output taxes during and in the succeeding quarters, must be read and applied in conjunction with Section 110 (B) thereof which provides as follows:

“SEC. 110. Tax Credits. —

xxx xxx xxx

(B) Excess Output or Input Tax. — If at the end of any taxable quarter the output tax exceeds the input tax, the excess shall be paid by the VAT-registered person. If the input tax exceeds the output tax, the excess shall be carried over to the succeeding quarter or quarters: Provided, however, That any input tax attributable to zero-rated sales by a VAT-registered person may at his option be refunded or credited against other internal revenue taxes, subject to the provisions of Section 112.”

It is evident from the foregoing that when the input tax exceeds the output tax, the excess shall be carried over to the succeeding quarter/s. But when input tax attributable to zero-rated sales exceeds the output tax, the excess input tax may be refunded or credited against other internal revenue taxes. Hence, for input tax attributable to zero-rated sales, it is only when input tax exceeds the output tax and the same is unapplied/unutilized against any output tax, that a refund or credit is proper.

⁵⁵ The People of the Philippines vs. Bawasanta, G.R. No. 45467, June 30, 1937.

As determined earlier, petitioner is liable for 12% output VAT amounting to ₱7,874,469.66 on deemed sale transactions. As correctly found by respondent, the amount of ₱7,874,469.66 does not represent petitioner's refundable excess input VAT as it was applied/offset against petitioner's output VAT on the deemed sale transactions. There being no excess input VAT as a result of zero-rated sales of petitioner, the said ninth requisite is likewise not complied with by the latter.

The Court reiterates its consistent ruling that actions for tax refund or credit, as in the instant case, are in the nature of a claim for exemption and the law is not only construed in strictissimi juris against the taxpayer, but also the pieces of evidence presented entitling a taxpayer to an exemption is strictissimi scrutinized and must be duly proven. The burden is on the taxpayer to show that he has strictly complied with the conditions for the grant of the tax refund or credit. Since taxes are the lifeblood of the government, tax laws must be faithfully and strictly implemented as they are not intended to be liberally construed.⁵⁶

Thus, in view of petitioner's failure to prove, to the satisfaction of the Court, its entitlement to the grant of tax refund or issuance of tax credit of input VAT in the amount of ₱7,874,469.66, the Court must perforce deny the present claim for refund.

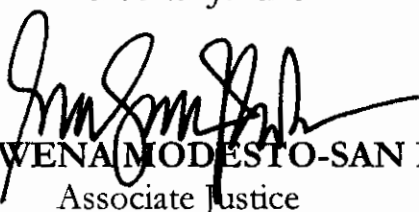

WHEREFORE, in light of the foregoing considerations, the present Petition for Review is DENIED for lack of merit.

SO ORDERED.
